Oregon Peach Bitters About eighteen years ago I received a hurt in my back from a pile of lumber falling on me, and ever since had been troubled with weak kidneys more or less, and the last year very much. Through the recommendation of Henry Keene, I bought a bottle of H. W. Cox's Oregon Peach Bitters and before I had taken half the bottle I found a great relief from it. I believe it to be a splendid remedy for the kidneys, and heartily recommend it for the same. J. H. PORTER, Astoria, January 12, 1888.

A Thunderbolt Sent to Wake up Sleepy Members. LIGHTNING STRIKES THE CAPITOL. Senators and Congressmen Thrown into Tremor and Confusion by the Shock.

A MOST TERRIFIC CRASH. Which Shakes the Massive Marble Structure and Creates a Panic--Two Men Prostrated.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The national capitol was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon suddenly. First there was a blinding flash, followed instantly by a report like the explosion of a bombshell over the building. Such was the terrific force of the stroke that it shook the vast marble structure and rattled the windows in all parts of the building. The lightning ran in streaks along the telegraph and electric light wires and steam heating pipes, causing a complete panic among the employes in the building. The report was so deafening as to cause a temporary cessation of business in both houses of congress. Senators and members of the house jumped to their feet in terror, and some little time elapsed before order could be restored in the house. In the basement of the capitol two laborers were prostrated by the shock, but both soon recovered. All the telegraph wires in the building were destroyed except one.

MORNING TELEGRAMS.

The Raging Big Muddy Overflowing its Banks.

MET THE WRONG OPERATOR.

Two Fellows Determined to Assassinate a Telegraph Operator, but got Left.

ANOTHER STRIKE PROBABLE. The Chicago and Northwestern Employees Ready, but are Waiting for a Conference.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 21.—It transpires that a general tie-up of Northwestern roads has only been prevented by Chief Arthur's counsels. The men have been on the point of striking for some time, but were unwilling to take the responsibility of doing so without the approval of the grand officers and the support of the whole brotherhood. Committees of engineers and firemen went to Chicago yesterday to consult Arthur. On the result of their visit depends whether a general tie-up will be begun or not.

Attempted Assassination. HELENA, (Ark.), March 31.—Last night about two o'clock there was an attempt made to burglarize the safe in the Union depot of the Iron Mountain road and the St. Louis & Texas railroad, and to assassinate the operator, named Bowles, at Nettleton, but owing to the bravery and the presence of mind of Bowles, the attempt proved abortive. The operator heard considerable noise on the platform and awaited developments. Presently there was a knock at the door, with a request to open it; that some parties desired to send a telegram. The operator became suspicious, placed a revolver in his coat pocket, and opened the door. When he got the door open he saw two men heavily masked. They said nothing, seemed to be surprised at his appearance. Bowles, surmizing their design, pulled his pistol and fired, but owing to his excitement, he missed his aim.

The would-be robbers returned the fire, but, owing to the alertness of Bowles in getting into the depot, he was not hurt. One of the bullets, however, went through his sleeve. A posse was soon afterward organized to capture the would-be assassins and burglars, but up to the present they have not been captured or heard of.

Defaulter to be Impeached. LOUISVILLE, March 21.—A dispatch from Frankfort states that the senate judiciary committee and the committee appointed yesterday by the house in their joint report to the legislature concerning the proper measures to be taken in the Tate defalcation case recommend his impeachment. The report says that the suspension by the governor does not vacate the office, and that impeachment is the only constitutional means by which an absconding treasurer may be removed and his place made vacant.

Floods on the Missouri. POPLAR RIVER (Mont.), March 21.—Ice in the Missouri river broke yesterday. Ice dams formed, and it overflowed its banks, and the whole river bottom, which includes millions of acres of land, is inundated for over one hundred miles. There will be great loss of cattle. Settlers living in the bottom lands have gone to the hills. The water is higher than ever known in the vicinity.

Bad Fire in Portugal. Oporto, March 21.—While a performance was in progress in the Banquet theater last night an explosion of gas occurred, and the theater took fire and was destroyed. The house was full of spectators. Ten bodies have been recovered from the ruins. Many persons were injured.
